DOUBLE RECEPTION

At Third Street M. E. Church to Pastor Bunton and "Bishop" Lane and Bride

A large crowd attended the reception last evening given by the Ladies' Aid Society and Epworth League of the Third Street M. E. Church, although a great many were prevented from attending on account of inclement weather.

The reception was in honor of their returned Pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Bunton, and Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Lane, lately returned from their honeymoon.

The parlors of the Church were nicely decorated with goldenrod, ferns and many beautiful cut flowers, and made a beautiful appearance. Added to this was the splendid music by Prof. Bailey's orchestra which made the occasion a very pleasant one.

After the guests had extended welcome greetings and congratulations to the guests of honor, Mr. Richardson called for order and introduced Prof. D. S. Clinger, who, in a neat little speech welcomed Rev. Bunton and his wife back for another year and extended heartiest congratulations to Mr. Lane and his bride. Rev. Bunton, Mr. Lane and Mrs. Bunton each responded in well-chosen words expressive of their appreciation of their hearty and cordial welcome extended to them.

Refreshments were now in order and in true Methodist style they were partaken of by all.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the cutting of the wedding cake which was participated in by old and young alike and a jolly good time was had in trying to find the ring and other articles concealed in the cake. The young lady who secured the ring is very happy over her good fortune.

The reception will be held in pleasant remembrance by all and it is the desire and wish of all that the coming year be a very successful one in this Church; also that life may hold out many joys to Mr. and Mrs. Lane.

Everybody is going to the chicken and waffle supper. Remember the time and place. Mr. R. B. Owens's residence 5:30 to 8 p. m.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT seems to be getting into deep water since he left Washington.

If there is any lethargy anywhere in Kentucky, it is not indicated by the registration figures. Kentucky is surely awake.—Louisville Post.

This little straw shows how the political wind is blowing for the Democrats and is taken from a Louisville dispatch to The Enquirer:

"The whole attitude of the the entire city administration is, according to Democratic politicians, unfriendly and hostile, not only to the Democrats in Louisville, but to the Democratic state ticket."

WHEN the cause of the prevailing high prices is discussed there is in some quarters but one cry, "The tariff, the robber tariff." Those who raise this cry do not stop to think that prices depend not on tariffs alone, but on a variety of other causes, some of which are undoubtedly now operating.

SUFFICIENT cause for congratulations. A Washington dispatch says: Mrs. RICHARD B. CHEW of this city is being congratulated by many friends in Kentucky and elsewhere upon the fact that she is the only heir here to the $90,000,000 estate of the late Baron SPRINGER. Mrs. CHEW is a Kentucky woman; her sister also lives here, and her mother, Mrs. W. W. BRUCE, of Lexington.

ALL AT A JUMP.

"You are eternally kicking. I'll bet if you had the world to make over you couldn't improve it a bit."

"Yes I could."

"What would be the first thing you would do?"

"Well, for a starter, instead of two weeks vacation and the rest work I would make two weeks work and the rest of the year vacation."

"Is that the best you could do?"

"Wouldn't that be good enough?"

"All but the two weeks work."

EXPENSIVE EXPERIENCE.

Cities Get Rid of Their Lighting Plants at a Loss to Save Themselves From Greater Loss.

The mayor of English, Ind., writes that the municipal electric light plant was sold for 35 per cent of its cost "because of the financial loss to the city." As it had been operated only five years, this makes the depreciation 13 per cent a year.

The municipal light and water plants of England, Ark., have been leased to G. W. Morris for six years. The reason assigned for this action is "gross mismanagement."

Although the qualified voters of Valley City, N. D., at an election called for the purpose, voted by a majority of nearly three to one to sell the electric light plant, the city council by a vote of four to three has decided not to sell, but instead to spend $12,000 on new machinery. Apparently the plant is too valuable a political asset to be surrendered at the mere call of the taxpayers, twice repeated.

The president of the village of Milford Center, O., writes that the municipal electric light and water plants were sold for $5,335. The latest report available gives the amount of bonds outstanding as $12,000.

Prior to its lease ten months ago the electric light plant of Linton, Ind., was badly run down and was costing the city from $200 to $500 a month owing to incompetent management. It is already on a paying basis, and the fine service furnished by it is in marked contrast to what was supplied when it was operated by the city.

The municipal electric light plant of Gravesend, N. Y., constructed at a cost of approximately $120,000, was never put into operation and was sold for $31,100 after the annexation of Gravesend to Brooklyn.

The electric light plant bought by the city council of Carrollton, Ga., was operated only a few months on account of the protests of the citizens and was turned over to the former owners.

In 1901 the city of Dunkirk, Ind., purchased the electric light plant, assuming the bonded indebtedness of $23,500. As it was not paying its way the city effected a compromise with the bondholders, to whom the plant was turned over, the city making a cash payment of $2,300. The mayor writes that the sale was due to "political changes in control."

A municipal electric light plant was installed by Ellwood City, Pa., in 1901 at a cost of $15,000. By 1904 it had become inadequate to carry its load, so the generating plant was shut down and has stood idle ever since, power being supplied by a private company.

An electrical engineer who devoted some weeks to rehabilitating it writes that the municipal electric light plant of Montpelier, Ind., was a complete failure and that it was turned over to the present owners for a dollar on condition that they would assume the outstanding bonds ($38,000). The city got nothing for the funds contributed by the citizens to make repairs. Another authority states that for three months before the sale there had been no street lights available and for part of that period no incandescent lights.

A CHEAP LESSON.

New York Abandons Its Experiment in Municipal Lighting.

About two years ago the city of New York installed at a cost of $122,848 a combined garbage incinerator and electric light plant, the current developed being used to light the Williamsburg bridge. The intention was to effect a saving over the cost of lighting the bridge by contract, and after the plant had been in operation six months Commissioner Woodbury estimated that the saving amounted to about 40 per cent.

It was therefore somewhat of a surprise to those who were not aware of the real facts to learn that the lighting plant had been shut down. The engineers in charge frankly admit that the plant has been run at a loss, and, although they are chary about giving figures, the best information obtainable is to the effect that the loss amounted to about $25,000 a year as compared with the cost by contract. In other words, it cost the city with free fuel about twice as much to light the bridge as a private company charges, although the company has to buy its fuel.

It is fortunate for New York that it made its electric lighting experiment on a small scale, for if it had undertaken to do all its public lighting and had sustained a proportionate loss the effect on the tax rate (and indirectly on rents) would have been such as to make the M. O. advocates move to some locality where their theory had not become a condition. As it is the lesson will be cheap at the price—if it has been really learned.

Government Telegraph Losses.

The detailed financial statement for the postoffice telegraphs, issued on Tuesday, shows that for the third year in succession the loss sustained by the nation on the service has amounted to more than a million pounds.

The receipts for the year were the largest ever known, reaching a total of $4,151,376.

A review covering thirty-seven years is included in the return, and shows that the total loss on the service during that period has amounted to $14,271,827.

About eight millions of this loss is accounted for by capital expenditure, but the remaining six and a half millions is dead loss on the working of the service.—London Telegraph.

Some men achieve boss-ship; some have boss-ship thrust upon them; others buy it.—Exchange.

After expressing himself in terms not to be misunderstood, condemning the emptying of the sewerage from the Sixth Ward sewer into the Ohio river above the intakes of the Maysville Water system, and failure of the City Council to take cognizance of the citizens in their protest against the wantonness of the same, Robert A. CURE BY CUTICURA AT CITY MISSION

Young Woman Found in Awful Condition with Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Tried Many Remedies for Seven Weeks—Result Was Discouraging, But

ITCHING TORTURES YIELDED TO CUTICURA

"While I was doing missionary work in the lower portion of several cities I found it necessary to know a little of the efficacy of a few medicines and after a while I found that a little knowledge of Cuticura was about all I needed. One of the very bad cases I had to deal with was that of a young woman who had come to us not only broken in spirit but in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient paresis, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure and the effects of her ragged-edged life. Her poor body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to retain solid food. We tried many things, a good tonic was prescribed and baths with a rubbing of lard and sulphur. We worked hard for seven weeks and you can imagine how discouraged we were when, after all that time, we could see so little improvement. One day I happened to see a Cuticura advertisement telling how a little baby had been cured of a bad case of skin eruption, and although I had but ninety-seven cents with me, I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Ointment. When I reached home I was like a child with a new toy, and we bathed our patient well and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept that night better than she had since she had been with us and the next day I located the price of a box of Cuticura Ointment. I am not exaggerating when I say that in exactly five weeks this young woman was able to look for a position, being strong enough to work and full of ambition. In another month she left the home, and now has a good position in a nice family where she is respected and is strong and well. You may refer any one you wish to me, personally. Laura Jane Bates, 85 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y., Mar. 11, 1907."

Captain John L. Vance's Tribute to the Majestic Ohio.

Captain John L. Vance of Columbus, O., President of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, in his speech before the Lake-to-the-Gulf Waterway Convention at Memphis Saturday, paid the following tribute to the Ohio river:

"Our interest in your great enterprise is demonstrated when you look over this assemblage and see delegations composed of prominent men from Pittsburgh, the manufacturing center of the world; from Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville, Cairo and from other and important points in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois—all active workers in the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, and all desirous of aiding in the work this Convention is called to advance."

"The Ohio asks your help—you must have ours; and I am here today receiving and extending the right hand of fellowship not only to the Lake-to-the-Gulf project, but to all waterways susceptible of improvement, not judging their merit by the tonnage of today, but by the tonnage they would be capable of bearing if improved."

"If it were otherwise, if present tonnage were to be the criterion of merit—and I am speaking facts only—it would be futile for this magnificent assembly of representative men to continue its deliberations."

"Between New Orleans and St. Louis there is not one steamer plying the waters of the Mississippi, nor is there one steamer plying the waters of the Mississippi between New Orleans in value of product and capital. And as it is there, so it is within the Pittsburgh district

In Paris Policemen are compelled to salute officers in uniform.

Last evening about 6:30, in rounding the sharp curve at the corner of Third and Bridge streets, Motorman Gill was not as mindful as he should have been and forged ahead with a full head of electrical steam, and in doing so he whisked Conductor Henry Otto—who was taking fares at the time—over the head of a passenger on through a plate glass in the front of the car with a force as though he had been shot out of a cannon. Strange to say the only damage was the broken glass, Henry was not scathed a particle, though he did use a few German expressions not incorporated in the Bible.

and the wharve of Memphis, our charming hostess and most hospitable entertainer.

"The tonnage borne on the Mississippi is the tonnage the Ohio carries from Pittsburgh and from points lower on the Ohio river—from all points on the stream—for Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, of all rivers in the United States, the Ohio alone carries tonnage from source to mouth—and further."

"Do you know the valley of the Ohio, gentlemen of this convention, and do you know the resources of the six states bordering the Ohio and directly tributary to it?"

THE OHIO VALLEY.

"The Ohio valley today is the greatest manufacturing center of the whole world. From Pittsburgh to Cairo on either bank and on both banks, the traveler on one of the many steamers traversing the Ohio finds himself never beyond the sound of the hammer or the forge, nor beyond the sight of the smoke issuing from the monster stacks of immense manufacturing establishments."

"At the head of the Ohio is situated the marvelous city of Pittsburgh—today the greatest manufacturing center of the civilized world, with a tonnage of 150,000,000 tons last year, greater by far than the combined tonnage produced or originated by Philadelphia and Baltimore and Boston and Greater New York."

"For miles above Pittsburgh, along the improved Monongahela, it is one succession of manufacturing plants—the marvel of the whole world in extent, in number of employees, along the Ohio below, and the passenger traveling on an Ohio river steamer is lost in amazement over the stupendous products of one city of the great Ohio valley."

BRACKEN PHYSICIANS

Fix Their Price For Pauper Practice in the County

At the last term of the Bracken County Fiscal Court, the members of the Bracken Medical Society presented an ultimatum to the Court, stating that unless they were paid 50 per cent. of their regular fee by the county, for pauper practice, that, after October 1st, they would do no practice for anyone unless the money was secured before hand.

At the present time the doctors are allowed $310 a year for pauper practice. Under the fee system it amounted to from $1,200 to $1,500.

The Magistrates of the Court seemed to be of the opinion that if the doctors adhered to their agreement, that the county would be saved the $310, and that no allowance would be made to the physicians.

Claim Made for Doan's Kidney

Pills in Mayville.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

C. L. Hubbard, employed in Cabliab's grocery, Cox Building, and living at 325 West Third street, Mayville, Ky., says:

"As I stated in a testimonial given in 1900, Doan's Kidney Pills brought me positive relief from inflammation of the bladder and a disturbed action of the kidneys. After some time I felt a slight return of the trouble but again used Doan's Kidney Pills and found complete relief. Now, after nearly five years I feel able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills with even greater confidence than before. The results of its use in my case have been very satisfactory."
